DSSA CASE TAKES THE NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT

By: John C. Sigler, Esq.
NRA Past President
DSSA Past President

The nation is watching. Attorneys General from at least 39 other states are watching. Both pro-gun and anti-gun advocates are watching. Delaware and DSSA are at center stage. The stakes are high, emotions are high, everyone is watching, and Freedom is on the line.

On June 23, 2022, the United States Supreme Court handed down its landmark decision in New York State Rifle & Pistol Association v. Bruen, now well known simply as "Bruen". The Bruen decision was the culmination of a long and arduous fight by our sister organization, New York's NRA State Association, to vindicate the right to keep and bear arms and to knock down a blatantly unconstitutional law passed by the New York legislature in defiance of the Supreme Court's prior decisions in Heller and McDonald. DSSA helped in that fight as a "friend of the court" in what is known as an amicus brief – more than one, actually.

Now it's our turn. The spotlight has shifted from New York's NRA State Association to Delaware's NRA State Association, your DSSA.

On June 30, 2022, just 7 days after the Bruen decision, Delaware's Governor John Carney signed two bills into law in open defiance of the Supreme Court's teachings in Bruen, Heller and McDonald, knowing full well that both laws were patently unconstitutional. One of those laws placed a ban on commonly owned rifles, pistols and shotguns which our General Assembly intentionally mislabeled as "assault weapons". The other law banned most standard capacity rifle and pistol magazines, again intentionally mislabeling these commonly owned items as "high capacity magazines". In both cases, the General Assembly intentionally used those pejorative terms - "assault" and "high capacity" - to poison the debate and convince themselves and the unwitting general public of the righteousness of their cause – the gun-ban cause.

Governor Carney and the rabidly anti-gun majority party of the Delaware General Assembly were warned that if either of those bills became law, the Delaware State Sportsmen's Association would do its duty as NRA's State Association in Delaware, and file suit challenging those laws on constitutional grounds. That warning was obviously ignored.

They actually told NRA and DSSA "sue us, we don't care. Let the courts figure it out."

True to its word, DSSA filed suit in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware challenging both laws. Joining the Delaware State Sportsmen's Association in its challenge to these laws as named plaintiffs in this important federal civil rights action were the Bridgeville Rifle and Pistol Club, the Delaware Rifle and Pistol Club, the Delaware Association of Firearms Licensees, plus individual plaintiffs, Madonna Nedza, Curtis Clements, James Hosfelt, Jr., Bruce Smith, Vickie Lynn Prickett and Frank Nedza.

The suit is captioned as Delaware State Sportsmen's Association, Inc., et al v. Delaware Department of Safety and Homeland Security, et al. We will call it simply "DSSA v. Delaware".

Following DSSA's lead, two other suits were also filed for the same purposes, Gray v. Attorney General and Graham v. Attorney General in which the Second Amendment Foundation and the Firearms Policy Coalition were additional named parties. Those actions have been consolidated with DSSA's cause of action. The goals are the same.

In an effort to further protect the citizens of the State of Delaware from the adverse effects of these blatantly unconstitutional and intentionally draconian measures, the Plaintiffs petitioned the Court for a Preliminary Injunction, asking the Court to bar Delaware's Department of Safety and Homeland Security and the Delaware State Police from enforcing these two bills. The U.S. District Court denied the Plaintiffs' motion. DSSA and the other plaintiffs in this case appealed the judge's ruling to the United States Third Circuit Court of Appeals. That appeal is currently pending.

To most Delawareans, DSSA's fight to have these two laws stricken from the books and the rights of Delaware gun owners protected seems like a local fight, and in many ways it is - just as the New York State Association's fight in Bruen seemed to be both personal and local to the members of the New York

State Rifle and Pistol Association before the Supreme Court spoke.

Just as NYSRPA v. Bruen eventually took on greater and greater national importance, so too is DSSA v. Delaware becoming recognized for its potential national importance.

The issues in DSSA v. Delaware are both numerous and complex. Adding to the complexity of these numerous issues is the fact that many, if not most, of those issues will be issues of first impression before the court, and other courts will be looking to the Third Circuit to see how that court resolves those issues. The potential for DSSA v. Delaware to become another Bruen or Heller or McDonald is very real indeed.

As one might expect in a case of this importance, powerful forces have taken an interest and are attempting to assist – on both sides. In addition to the briefs (written arguments) filed by the parties in support of their respective positions on appeal, “friends of the court”, known as “amici”, have filed a number of briefs, known as “amicus briefs”.

Briefs supporting DSSA’s position that the District Court was wrong in denying the Motion for a Preliminary Injunction have been filed by the following organizations:

1. A brief by the National Shooting Sports Foundation
2. A brief by 20 Attorneys General representing the states of Montana, Alabama, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.
3. A brief by Gun Owners of America
4. A brief by the Delaware Association of Second Amendment Lawyers
5. A brief by the International Law Enforcement Educators and Trainers Association, the Law Enforcement Legal Defense Fund, the National Association of Chiefs of Police

Additionally, our co-appellants have also filed a brief supporting and asserting their own arguments as to why these two draconian laws are unconstitutional and why the District Court’s adverse decision must be reversed. This helps DSSA.

The other side also has its outside supporters. Chief among those adverse supporters is an amicus brief filed by the Attorney General of Massachusetts and the Attorneys General from New Jersey, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Washington D.C., Hawaii, Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, New York (of course), Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Washington – all deep “blue” states with long anti-gun and anti-freedom histories.

As one might expect, Michael Bloomberg’s Everytown for Gun Safety, and the Giffords Law Center have also filed amicus briefs in opposition to DSSA and in support of our anti-gun Attorney General and Governor and supporting the blatant gun-grab attempt by the far-left Majority of the Delaware General Assembly.

Many of us remember the rallies at Legislative Hall, the times when freedom-loving Delawareans packed the halls and balconies at Legislative Hall, and all of the things each of us have said and done to convince our elected officials to obey the constitution and abide by their oaths of office. And of course, we all remember the feeling of betrayal when those two measures passed in both Houses and Governor Carney ultimately ignored the Supreme Court’s guidance in Bruen and the words of our own Delaware Constitution by signing those bills into law.

Many felt that this was simply a Delaware issue. But it is not.

A total of forty (40) state Attorneys General have “skin in the game.” Every major pro-gun and anti-gun national organization has skin in the game. Top name lawyers from across the country have written briefs on both sides of the issue – names like David Kopel, Steve Halbrook, Dan Petersen, David Thompson and our own Francis Pileggi, just to name a few on our side.

No, this is no longer just a local issue of importance just here in tiny Delaware. This is now a national issue with your DSSA leading the way.

Yes! This is our fight – it’s your fight. It is an important fight, maybe even as important as the fight so recently won by our sister organization in New York that we now know as “The Bruen Decision.”

But that is not all – not by a long shot.

This is a fight being fought on two fronts simultaneously. The appeal currently pending in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals, described above, is just one front in this two-front war.

The appeal in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals just pertains to the federal constitutional issues in this case – primarily the Second Amendment. But there is much more to this case.

In addition to the federal constitutional issues, there are also state constitutional issues. Those issues have been removed to state court and are currently pending in the Superior Court in Kent County. Of primary concern is whether those two laws – the ban on rifles, pistols and shotguns termed “assault weapons”, and the ban on standard capacity magazines termed “high capacity” – violate our own Constitution’s Article I Section 20 which says that “A person has the right to keep and bear arms for defense of self, family, home and State, and for hunting and recreation.”

This is a two-front fight, and both fronts are important. We must win them both. DSSA promised to fight this “war” and it is keeping that promise.

This fight is far from over. This is your fight – and you need to help.

The ammunition in this “war” is money. Lawyers are expensive, even when they are on our side – even when they believe as we do.

Do your part – go to DSSA.us and donate to the fight. Every dollar counts and every dollar will be needed in the very near future.

And, do not forget – we still have another suit pending called Birney, et al v. Delaware Department of Safety and Homeland Security. In the Birney case, DSSA is fighting for the rights of 18-21 year old adult citizens to enjoy the same rights as the rest of us. Old enough to vote, old enough to go to war, old enough to sign contracts and get married – old enough to enjoy the right to keep and bear arms for defense of self, home and family.

The far-left anti-gun crowd has declared war on Delaware's law-abiding gun owners and there are many more battles ahead. Your DSSA has sworn to defend your rights – this is your fight. Do your part. Freedom is not free.

Help DSSA to help you. Do what you can, when you can – go to DSSA.US and do your part to win this war.

High Power Report

By: Frank Nedza

July 8th and 9th Mid-Range Match. Sometimes being a highpower shooter means being 'not quite right' ☺. That was evident in the folks who showed up to shoot on this weekend. It was HOT. It was HUMID. It was NASTY. In short, it was pretty miserable (for humans), and even more miserable for human sling shooters in our leather coats. At least the F-Class guys can get by with t-shirts and shorts. It was still fun though, and conditions for shooting were pretty nice (for the bullets). Anyway, on to the results.

Holy Moley –the F-Open guys really killed it this weekend! Joe Spina led the pack firing a perfect 1000 point aggregate - 1000-71X! Well Done, Joe! (and he was playing injured). 71X's out of 120 shots means that nearly 60% of his shots fired (from 600 yards away) landed in a 3" circle. Like I said, Holy Moley! Slightly behind him was Henry Ferris at 999-73X. Dropping only one point in five matches is pretty darned good shooting for sure, and you guys certainly "got 'er did". Well done, Gents. We had a couple of 'new to us' shooters in High Master Land, Vince Pliscofsky, and Jon VanNest. They came down from Upstate New York to shoot with us, and I hope they had fun, and will join us again soon.

New to us Master Class shooter Charles Barclay did well too, firing a 991-48X for the weekend. Well done! Over in F-T/R, perpetual threat Todd Norfleet pumped out a 993-64X for the weekend with his trusty .308. Nice Shooting Todd! Veteran F-Open guy, but now F-T/R shooter Dave Kokoszka followed Todd, firing a nice 986-62X. In Master/Expert/Sharpshooter land, John Sturgill, a relatively new shooter continues to make great progress, firing a nice 968-25X for the weekend. Looking good John! Keep up the good work!

On the sling (or conventional) side, Jon Howell sure held hard and squeezed 'em off, firing a super-nice 997-53X, with his .223 Rem Palma rifle and, of course, iron sights. Well done, Jon! Right on his heels was Joe 'is that ammo fresh?' Fogg, who fired a nice 995-48X with his .308 Win Palma rifle and the requisite iron sights. Nice Shooting, Joe! These two guys almost always shoot iron sights, and are always right up near the top of the heap.

At any rate, there sure were a LOT of great scores (and cleans) shot this weekend under what were pretty miserable (for humans) conditions –hot, sweaty, and nasty was the order of the day. Well done everyone!

July 21-23 Long-Range State Championship Match. I was pretty bummed out that we had to postpone this match from its scheduled June date, but I think the weather made it worth it in the end. We sure had some pretty decent conditions (for July...) this weekend, mild winds, low-ish humidity, and decent temperatures. As always, a HUGE Thank You to everyone for helping with setup and teardown –it is very much appreciated (certainly by me). Even though it is hot and hard work, I think on these hot summer days it beats being in the pits and pulling targets all to pieces.

Anyway, HOLY COW there were some great scores shot this weekend. Mild conditions sure help with that, but you gotta find the middle no matter what.

On the sling side, Jon Howell, John Harrison, and Joe Fogg certainly were able to find the middle of the target, placing 1,2,3, with an 1188-57X, 1185-52X, and 1182-63X. Jon was banging away with his .223 Palma Rifle (iron sights) for the Conventional Aggregate win, while John Harrison shot a 6 x 47 Lapua (scope) and Joe Fogg used his 6.5 Addiction (iron sights) to good effect, while Mark Trew was only back by a few X's at 1182-51X. That is some very consistently good shooting over two days of matches (and at 1000 yards no less). Well done guys!

In F-T/R, Jim Crofts had a good weekend, firing a nice 1175-49X for the win. Good shooting Jim! In 2nd and 3rd places it was a 'Battle of the Todds' with Todd Strasavich firing a nice 1170-34X, and Todd Norfleet pulling out an also nice 1166-35X. Both are currently Master Class Shooters, but I hope not for too much longer. Great Shooting Gentlemen!

Last, but certainly not least, we move to F-Open. George VanWhy KILLED it this weekend, firing a super-nice 1193-63X for the F-Class Aggregate. That is 63 of 120 shots landing in a 5" circle, from 1000 yards away. Well Done, George!

Next on the list was Andy Amber, who fired a nice 1187-48X. He was closely followed by Henry Ferris at 1186-62X. Next up was Art DeMarco (Master Class) at 1180-41X. I think these results point out that; 1. It is TIGHT up there at the top. 2. We have some really good shooters coming to Bridgeville. Well done Guys!

August 26-27th Long-Range Match. Hoo-Boy, another hot and humid weekend here on the Delmarva peninsula... Thought I was melting there for a while... I wonder if the summer heat/humidity are ever going to let up? In spite of the heat and the humidity, I think everything went pretty well for the most part (welcome back Corey ☺), and I think folks had a pretty nice time. That is what it is all about after all; a ~~good~~ great day on the range with friends. Anyway, on to the results.

Today, let's start with F-T/R for a change. It looks like Master Class shooter Todd Strasavich had a pretty good weekend, firing a nice 982-35X for the class win. Well done, Todd! I am happy to report that Josh Driessen (Expert), took second, with a nice 973-34X. His scores were in the 190's all weekend, and I think he went home happy with his performance. I think that Master is just around the corner for him. Well done, Josh! Chris Fairbanks and Todd Norfleet were next up, firing 972's with only X's separating them. Great job, Guys!

Over on the sling side, Joe Fogg (that name keeps coming up...) took the conventional win with his 6.5 Addiction and iron sights, firing a nice 992-43X. Super-good job, Joe! Next up was Rich Kussman, who missed it by juuuuusst one point, firing a nice in any case 991-43X. Well done, Rich! In the Palma rifle category, Joe Wawrzaszek was the leader firing a nice 982-47X with his 308 and iron sights. Nicely done, Joe!

Now, we move over to F-Open... HOLY COW! Relatively new shooter (and Expert class at that) Natalia DeMarco took the F-Open win, firing a really nice 988-42X! Well Done, Natalia! I am pretty sure that Master is just around the corner, unless she decides to just skip that and go directly to High Master. As a side note, she also fired her first ever clean at 1000 yards, a nice 200-9X. Nice Shooting! Just behind her was George VanWhy, who fired a pretty nice 986-40X. Just behind George was newly-minted (but not effective yet) Long-Range High Master, Jack Neith, at 582-35X. You guys are certainly beating up that target! As a special mention, new JUNIOR shooter Riley Johnson fired his first match this weekend, shooting with his Dad, and fired a nice 887-11X. It looks like things were getting better for him right along, when tragically, the match was over. I am pretty sure we will see him again soon, though.

Last, but certainly not least, THANK YOU for supporting this DSSA Fundraiser event!!! Thanks to your willingness to help, we were able to raise more than $1,700 to help in the fight for our 2A rights during this event. All total, Bridgeville High Power shooters, have contributed over $4,400 dollars to help out in our fight for Freedom! THANK YOU!

Our next event will be our 8th Annual Long-Range Regional match, scheduled for September 22-24. Look for an informational e-mail soon.

NEW MEXICO - IT COULD HAPPEN HERE

BY

John C. Sigler, Esq.
NRA Past President
DSSA Past President

Don't be fooled, it could happen here!

On Thursday, September 7, 2023, New Mexico's Democrat Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham issued an executive order that shocked the world when she declared "gun violence" to be a public health state of emergency for the City of Albuquerque and Bernalillo County, banning both concealed carry and open carry of firearms in that city and county. In her statement to the press, she openly admitted that her actions were unconstitutional but justified her actions by stating that neither the constitution nor her oath of office as governor were "absolute" – amazing!

When confronted by the Sheriff of Bernalillio County who announced that he and his officers viewed the governor's actions as blatantly unconstitutional she chided the sheriff by stating that she did not need lectures on the constitution from the sheriff. The Chief of Police for Albuquerque has also stated that the city's police force would not enforce the governor's unconstitutional declaration leaving only the New Mexico State Police to enforce the governor's political will.

On Sunday, September 10th, over 100 people peacefully rallied in historic Old Town Albuquerque to protest the governor's actions. Many, if not all, were openly armed and defiant, chanting "We will not comply!" There were no arrests.

OK, so that was New Mexico, so what does that have to do with Delaware, you ask? Good question.

Just a few short weeks ago, on March 14, 2023, Senate Concurrent Resolution 12 was introduced in the Delaware Senate and passed the same day by the Senate Democrats on a strict party line vote. That same day, March 14, 2023, SCR 12 passed the Democrat-controlled Delaware House of Representatives on a voice vote. Apparently even the House Democrats did not want their names on the record supporting the radical Senate Democrats on this measure.

So, what was Senate Concurrent Resolution 12 and what did it do, you ask? Another good question.

Delaware Senate Concurrent Resolution 12 declared so-called "gun violence" to be a "public health emergency" and by doing so set the stage for "gun violence" to fall under Sub-Chapter V of Chapter 31 of Title 20 – you guessed it - Delaware's Public Health Emergency Statute. That is the same statute that gave Governor Carney the power to declare the COVID-19 public health emergency that went on and on and on for months and months, demonstrating beyond all reasonable doubt Governor Carney's devotion to the Democrats' national agenda and his own quest for personal power at the expense of the liberties of the people of the State of Delaware.

Hopefully neither Governor Carney nor Attorney General Jennings are as crazy, power hungry, arrogant or as constitutionally confused as New Mexico's Governor Grisham. But you never know.

Remember, it was our own Governor Carney who thumbed his nose at the United States Supreme Court just a year ago when he signed three blatantly unconstitutional anti-gun bills into law just seven days after the Supreme Court's landmark decision in the vaunted Bruen case. All three of those bills are now being challenged in court.

And it was Attorney General Jennings who put out a press release at the conclusion of the last session of the General Assembly promising that Senate Substitute 1 for Senate Bill 2, the clearly unconstitutional "Permit-to-Purchase Bill", would pass and be signed by Governor Carney in January.

Neither Attorney General Jennings nor Governor Carney care about your God-given right to keep and bear arms for lawful purposes, and both Jennings and Carney have proven track records for thumbing their noses at both the Second Amendment and our own Article I Section 20 which says, in no uncertain terms, "A person has the right to keep and bear arms for defense of self, family home and state, and for hunting and recreation."

Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. Both Delaware and New Mexico are deep "blue" states, both controlled by a rabidly anti-gun power structure.

Make no mistake, my friends. What happened in New Mexico, can happen right here in Delaware. It could happen in Wilmington, Dover, Newark, Seaford or maybe even on a state-wide basis. The stage has been set. Be prepared.

Those brave citizens who gathered on Sunday morning in Old Town Albuquerque to declare "We will not comply" in response to Governor Grisham's despotic power grab are to be commended and praised.

Let us hope and pray that our own Governor has more brains than his despotic Democrat colleague in New Mexico. But let there be no mistake, it could happen here. And if it does, I hope you will join me at Legislative Hall to tell our Governor, loud and clear and in no uncertain terms, "We will not comply".

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

I hope everyone is having a great summer. There have been many days, weather wise, that make great range outings. I have been attending as many high-power rifle events as possible, not only here in Delaware but in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Yes even New Jersey. Cumberland Riflemen have a great 600 yard range that's been there for over 50 years.

Things on the legislative front have been fairly quiet over the last couple of months. The big news was the shake-up in committee assignments made by the new Speaker, Valerie Longhurst. The new lineup will makes things more difficult for us come January.

The court cases are proceeding, but at a snail's pace. The Attorney General is using every delaying tactic possible to keep from having any actual hearings.

Found out a while back that thanks to you, the members, DSSA has the third highest membership of all the states. Only California and Texas have more members. Thank you. To me, it means that we represent a larger percentage of the population, per capita than any other state.

We are planning a fund raiser in New Castle County, most likely in February. Standby for more details.
